

Indian music enrichment with western instruments

Sammvad Music Culture Academy has performed multiple mega concerts in Detroit Metro area in past couple of years

All concerts offered Indian classical and folk fusion with western instruments and western music.

The music academy is involved in several non-profit and commercial performances through the years

The SYO concept has been tested thoroughly to invoke Indian music interest in today's youth born outside of India

What SYO offers?

Mentoring in Indian music with western instruments

Several concerts through the year for hands on learning experience

Practical learning through stage exposure

Music enrichment through Indian music styles including Bollywood

Pressure free exposure to enhance teamwork skills

Opportunity to demonstrate the ability to imagine and create new musical compositions

What is Samsvad Youth Orchestra (SYO)?

Schools systems in the United States teach several musical instruments. Such valuable school training can be enhanced to connect young Indian minds to their culture and their identity.

Indian Classical music system has skillfully adopted several non-Indian music instruments in its fold. Violins, Saxophones, BulBul Tarang and several instruments are used in Indian Classical and popular Indian music for main stream recitals and accompaniment.

Samsvad Youth Orchestra creates awareness and connects kids/youth with Indian music.

Also offering Hindustani Classical Vocal, Tabla, Keyboard, Harmonium and Dance classes

New Approach

Samsvad Youth Orchestra is a special program developed to utilize western music training to play Indian music. Initially it does not make it necessary for kids/youth to learn Indian music system. However, over the time through diverse projects we do train them to understand Indian music system better and develop understanding of world music.
